

RUMPUS MANSION STORY STARTER

We've pulled together the start of a Blackgang Chine story below. Let your imagination run wild and finish the story in your own words! Don't forget to share your story with us when you're finished!

Shrouded in darkness, we crept towards the front door. "Okay Michael, I'm not so sure about this anymore, what if Rumpus Mansion really is alive?" I nervously muttered as the great mansion loomed before us. "Don't be such a coward, there's no such things as gremlins or ghouls" Michael blurted presumptuously. He scanned around the darkness one last time before sheepishly pressing the doorbell. The shriek of a wolf split through the air sending shivers down my spine. The doors eerily creaked open revealing the dimly lit mansion in all it's glory. Michael stood in awe with what lay before him. "Come on let's go in before someone finds us!"
